Hi guys! Checkin in. I anticipate folks will be inquiring about our polar bear issue, though it hasnt cropped up yet that I've heard of.

Climate change is a top issue of course. Just head's up. Also, predator control's been quiet, but let me know if the issue's volume gets turned up and I need to respond to anything. Thanks guys! Hang in there... I appreciate you sincerely.

Hi Governor. We've received a number of public records requests and press inquiries regarding polar bears and predator control, but nothing out of the ordinary (other than the number and frequency).

You and I should probably meet sometime, if you get a chance, with Doug Larsen to go over possible plans for predator control this coming year. And, there are some issues on the early-October North Pacific Fishery Management Council meeting agenda (like halibut charter allocations) that Cora and I could use your guidance or opinions on.

But things are going well.

Good luck out there, DL.

I hear that Exxon is attending the Monegan hearing(s)? That's odd.

Governor,

Nothing new today on the election numbers that I've heard.

My understanding is that someone, either Van Flein or the campaign, is doing a presser related to Monegan as we speak. I haven't heard from anyone exactly what has been said.

Topics today:

1) Use of personal e-mail accounts. AP and Channel 2 have tried to do follows of today's ADN story, which includes comments I made three weeks ago when I thought Lisa Demer was pitching a story idea (but in fact was secretly taping me). Per today's staff meeting regarding communications that occurred over the weekend, we're referring the inquiries to the campaign.

2) Kyle Hopkins has been trying to sandbag commissioners on talking to him about how state government possibly could work with you on the road. Annette responded before hearing that we were trying to put a lid on it. Not sure what if anything the campaign is saying about this.

3) The tanning bed at the Governor's House. My understanding is that you paid for this. Some website is implying otherwise, triggering various phone calls from the media.

4) Grace at Channel 11 wanted to know your feelings on the Knik Arm Bridge. I left her a voice mail message simply saying that you want a complete review and a public process.

5) Subpoenas. I understand the lawyers have a letter from you they're trying to parse. Anything to add there? It appears that Mike Barnhill already had sent a letter to Branchflower -- in response to Elton's letter in which Elton conceded that the Department of Law interpretation that state employees aren't facing criminal charges is the correct interpretation -- saying that the Admin folks would cooperate and talk. That has been reported already.

Various and sundry questions from last week:

--Is it your belief that dinosaurs and humans co-existed at one time? I said I have never spoken to you about this. (There is an interesting reference to "Behemoth" in the Old Testament.)

--What was your attitude toward the "rape kits" under Chief Fannon? (A former acquaintance of mine from Haines, by the way.)

--How is decision-making shared between you and Craig Campbell?

--Do you have a favorite poem?

I continue to be dismayed at the media.

I hope you are well.

--Bill

Governor, all is well thanks. We had an idea that work, although staying busy, would be be less demanding than the AGIA process. We were wrong about the work load but the desire and energy to achive your goals, to get gas to market, to take care of Alaskan's business are also stronger than ever. We know with great pride that your work load increased also.

The anti's are now saying the line will never get through Canada. That position will be destroyed by the truth of the treaty between the US and Canada, TC's access position in Canada, our and even the Legis legal consultants saying it will happen, the demands of the market for clean energy, the motivating economics for all including the producers, US, Canada, and Ak, and then even the Denali project is planned through Canada. It remains amazing how some choose to distort the truth. I call it lying.

I have not heard that about Exxon but I know they are very interested in everything we do.

As your time allows we will be ready to provide support for the calls to the company CEOs. Thanks from all of us for your continued support!

Good news!! The initial results from the Kenai River show the new regs you approved have reduced the hydrocarbons from a high of 23 ppm to under the 10 ppm limit. Will keep you informed. God bless.

Governor:

There is a fuel issue in Adak. The local supplier is refusing to extend further credit to the city for fuel. The city owes roughly $500,000 now. The city and the supplier (Aleut Corp.) are talking to try and resolve the issues. There is plenty of fuel in Adak, the supplier is just unwilling to sell more to the city on credit.

I will look into whether either of the loan programs we just expanded with increased loan limits in the recent special session could be used by Adak to get through the crisis, when they will receive their municipal revenue sharing payments, etc. and report back. If these programs or others are available to help Adak we will let them know right away.

Randy

Greg:

Please let me know whether Adak has received its municipal revenue sharing payments, and if not, when they are due to be paid.

Also, please let me know whether the bridge loan program administered at Commerce that we just increased in special session to a $750,000 maximum limit is available to the City of Adak.

Also, if there is any emergency loan or grant sources, please let me know.

Sarah:

Are there any loan or grant programs that Adak can apply for that are administered by AEA?

Talis,

With respect to the investigation, we are still in the information gathering stage. As you know, we have retained as an expert Barry Pulliam of EconOne (sp?), who currently is in the process of reviewing all public information regarding gas pricing and 60 boxes of information from the prior price fixing investigation. We have also sent information requests to Tesoro, Chevron, and Flint Hills. After Ed returns from leave, there is a plan to meet with the companies to talk about the information requested and to get an informal assessment from the companies about what is affecting the price of gas. Barry Pulliam will be coming to Alaska on September 30 to meet with Ed and the companies. And as you may also know, Ed was in Fairbanks on Wednesday of last week to appear at the House Judiciary meeting that was convened to talk about gas pricing. Let me know if you need any more information. I also put a call into Ed in case he has more to add.

Good morning Randy. I sent an email to Scott Ruby requesting some information on your questions. I also wanted to make you aware that Adak has a loan through the Bond Bank that has a payment coming due on November 1st. The payment amount is $117,375 and we will be requesting payment the week of October 20th. If that payment is not received the Bank has the authority to intercept state revenues to cover the payment. They have not indicated to us that this will be a problem but I thought you should be aware of this just in case. Thanks.

A very close friend of mine, Steve Muhic, was a boat owner/captain in Alaska several years ago and Todd Palin was a crew member on Steve's gillnet boat.
Steve was seriously injured in a surfing accident in Virginia on Monday. He is recovering well in the Peninsula Regional Medical Center in Salisbury MD.
Steve has always spoken very highly of Todd and his family. He has shared several stories about their fishing trips. I thought Todd would like to know of Steve's condition.
If there is any way to pass along this information to Todd, please let him know Steve is recovering and should be back to full strength in a week or two.
If Todd would like to contact Steve, the hospital phone number is 410.546.6400.

Governor Palin Speaks Out in Support of OCS Drilling

September 15, 2008, Juneau, Alaska – Governor Sarah Palin submitted the state of Alaska's comments to the federal Minerals Management Service (MMS) on the preparation of a new five-year Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) Oil and Gas Leasing Program. Governor Palin praised the MMS for embarking on this effort to update the five-year leasing program, and confirmed the state's support for the proposed oil and gas leasing programs in the Beaufort Sea, Chukchi Sea, and limited areas in the North Aleutian Basin, as well as for the special interest sales for the Cook Inlet planning areas.

"The oil and gas resources within the state of Alaska and in the federal waters off our shores can contribute greatly to the natural gas supplies of this nation, as well as diversify the nation's oil and gas supply areas," Governor Palin said. "My support of the five-year OCS Oil and Gas Leasing Program, and specifically the development of those resources off the shores of Alaska, is directly linked to promoting the nation's energy independence from foreign oil and gas."

Included in Governor Palin's letter is her support for MMS to work closely with residents and local governments within the leasing regions, oil and gas companies, and other stakeholders to minimize conflicts, especially with subsistence activities, fishing activities, and fish and wildlife resources.

Dear Governor Sarah; I apologize for intruding into your email but I need to contact your husband Todd and the only contact I found online was a phone number which I feel is too personal. I am a member of the Los Angeles Adventurers Club which meets every Thursday evenings near downtown LA and was wondering if Todd would be interested in speaking about his snow machine races and commercial fishing tales. We are a private men's club and as such are apolitical so we are interested in adventure and it sounds like Todd has had plenty of. There are usually about 50 to 70 members and their guests who attend the meetings. The evening starts out with a group dinner and then we all move to the auditorium for club business and the guest speaker. Please check us out on our website and give this matter some serious consideration.

Dear Governor Palin:

My son, Ian, participated in the Tesoro Iron Dog from Georgia, via the Flat Stanley project, Team 26. I would love to send you the picture and news clipping the local paper printed.

While all the Democrat intellectuals wonder where you came from, Flat Stanley set off for Alaska and came home with the scoop, which was printed in our paper on March 19, 2008. Where may we send this news clipping for your perusal?

I would love for Ian to meet you and shake your hand when you come to Georgia, if circumstances ever permit. Regardless, please ask Mr. Palin if he would be so kind as to autograph Ian's Flat Stanley, we will enclose a SASE when we discover where we should forward the material.

We, like so many Americans, are proud of you and are just ecstatic to have our families linked together through the Tesoro Iron Dog!

Governor:

Agency personnel are reviewing loan and grant programs and dates for disbursement of municipal revenue sharing amounts to Adak. The thought is that while we have not received a request from Adak for help, we would go ahead and fax a letter to the Mayor letting him know what state loan and grant programs are available and how to apply for them. At that point, the ball will be in Adak's hands as to whether to try and take advantage of the programs.

Another factor is that apparently Adak is owed quite a bit of money in fish taxes that have not been paid and probably caused at least in part, a domino effect on Adak's ability to pay its fuel bull. We will be looking into that as well with Department of Revenue.

We will keep you posted throughout the day.

Hi Governor. We've received a number of public records requests and press inquiries regarding polar bears and predator control, but nothing out of the ordinary (other than the number and frequency).

You and I should probably meet sometime, if you get a chance, with Doug Larsen to go over possible plans for predator control this coming year. And, there are some issues on the early-October North Pacific Fishery Management Council meeting agenda (like halibut charter allocations) that Cora and I could use your guidance or opinions on.

Governor,

It's great to hear from you! There are very few anti's griping within Alaska, but the national media is getting their first taste of AGIA and they WANT it to be wrong somehow. First, the New York Times wrote that the gasline is no sure thing, quoting Bert and Lyda as recent converts against it ("We're shocked that TC demands $500 million from the state!"), acting as if you had said the gas was practically flowing right now. Recently, we hear that a Newsweek reporter wants to "blow the lid" off the real story that everybody knows we'll never get through Canada, and AGIA was all a ruse to get you to the White House.

We'll continue to spread the truth, and explain the ongoing battle with the Producers.

We know you're letting people around the country know about what Alaska has to offer. Thank you.

-Pat

Subject: Checkin in

Hello gasline team- checking in- hoping all is well with all of you. I hear some of the anti's are griping about TC-Alaska again, let me know if I need to answer any of their gripes. You're doing great and people around the country are very excited about AK resource development.

I hear that Exxon is attending the Monegan hearing(s)? That's odd.

Again, hoping all is well and let me know what you need. Thank you folks!

Subject: RE: Checking in

He and I have not had much time to discuss it. I gave him a brief report of the following:
We had a Working Group meeting September 10 with Comms. Hartig, Hogan, von Scheben, Karen Rehfeld and me.

- Labor Contracts & Non-Covereds salary increases have increased State budget by $150.0 by FY10.
- Geographic Differential Study will be done in time for the Legislative session - there will be budget impact. It was last implemented fully in 1970. Due to arbitrations and court cases, there are disparities between union and non-union employees. The study will put everyone back on even ground (through phasing).
- Salary Survey: We all agreed it needs to be done by outside contractor, not state. Last one took nine months. Can't rush it, or no one will trust the results. The Group on the 10th concurred on this point. We will begin the work, but it won't be done in time for the FY10 budget.
- We've worked with the classification section to remove barriers in how we do classifications. I have offered to meet with every department's administrative services director, and have met with: DNR, Revenue, Law, DPS, and DOT/PF. This is important because these folks drive the departments, they know what the hiring issues are. I am in touch with the hundreds of hiring managers, as well. I believe I have real time information on the recruitment and retention issues, because I have constant communication with those who are dealing with it daily.
- We've allowed more flexibility in Deputy Commissioner Pay
- Streamlined the intern program process (esp. important to DF&G, DEC and others who use interns and try to steer them toward a career in state government).
- More departments are using the tools available to them: Law has switched to flexible work schedules (employees get every other Fri or Mon off and still put in 37.5 hours per week with no office closures, public must still get service.) APOC is moving to this, pockets of State government are moving to it and employees love it.

The group asked that we have talking points and a matrix of what's been accomplished so far for them to be able to get the word out to their employees. We'll have that tomorrow.

We have certain things going for us:

- Layoffs in Lower 48 states provide us more opportunity in recruiting for specialized jobs where we have few Alaska applicants
- Stock market downturn means folks who might have wanted to retire might decide to stay another year or two.

These factors give us more time to get the impact of the geo diff study and the salary survey implemented.

If you are hearing something from others that's a different story, I will be glad to run it down and figure out the specific issue.

Thanks for the note.

Hi Annette- sorry to hear the office has been inundated with some odd media inquiries - hope you're able to get through the day productivly. Have you and Nizich had much time to discuss the salary survey (recruitment/retention)?

We understand that the accuser of the brethren is not very happy with a Governor who dedicates the State to the purposes of God. The first dream that we sent you from Barb Pennington was about the media and the time of the fish. A sort time ago Cheryl Licht (her parents are Sr. Pastors at Crossroads) Wasilla had a dream that they were also going to attack Tod. They wanted you to know that they were praying for you. I run into people all the time who say the Lord has called them to personally intercede for you. There truly are more for you than are against you! We thank you for standing for righteousness and truth in our State!

Prophesy for Governor Palin:

On August 4th, while I was praying for the governor's administration the Lord gave me a scripture for her!

2 Kings 6:12-23, which tells of the story of the plot to capture Elisha the prophe
I then began to seek the Lord for what this meant for the governor and He showed me.

A plot is unfolding to ensnare you by those who are now against you. You have some in your administration who that are now or shall become fearful, they mus be reassured that those who are for you are much more than those who are not The Lord will close the eyes of your attackers and allow you to lead them into th hands of their enemies. When this happens you will have the power to destroy (forgive. It is very important that you show mercy and restore them with grace and it will effectively end the attacks against you!

p.s. Sarah should re-read the scripture for herself as I feel the Lord has further revelation to give her personally. It would also be helpful for her to revisit the scripture the Lord gave me for her at the inauguration, (2 Peter 1:2-8).
